"It's rare to see varietal Cinsault in Washington, but this producer consistently makes a standout bottle. The aromas bring notes of flower, red fruit, tobacco and herb. Plump feeling but elegant flavors follow, showing delicacy. It's equal parts intrigue and delivery."

the story

Cinsault is one of my very favorite fermentations every season. It is wild and beautiful and so very aromatic. This noble grape is typically relegated to a support role in red blends or used to make delicious, pale Rose. With Make Haste I wanted Cinsault to have the singular, starring role and it certainly shines. - Morgan Lee
